This book which I very recently read and would highly recommend everyone to read. It's about a farm named as "Manor Farm" managed by Mr. Jones, the farm is of pigs, cows, horses, sheep's, a donkey and few poultries. One day they broke rebellion against the animal-slavery which leads the humans to leave the farm, later the farm is named as "Animal Farm".

This classic is full of very interesting scenes to practice grammar. The director, Brian de Palma, is one of my favorite movie makers, because the way he uses the camera provides us, teachers, with plenty of material for our classes. This scene, for example, shows the same apartment several times and there is little language used, so it is a must for beginners.

Materialism is a form of philosophical monism which holds that matter is the fundamental substance in nature, and that all things, including mental aspects and consciousness, are results of material interactions.. In Idealism, mind and consciousness are first-order realities to which matter is subject and secondary. In philosophical materialism the converse is true.
